

Some BIG IDEAS in Art

- The act of creating art is sometimes more important than the art object itself.
- One of the ways that artists communicate is with lines.
- A painting is a flat surface with paint on it.
- Space can be defined, created and manipulated in a variety of ways.
- Art comes in many forms and is made for many purposes.
- Artists have tried out a variety of ways to show feelings in their work.
- Art is a reflection of the time period and the culture in which it was made.
- The faces an artist work from are often those of his or her family.
- One way of telling stories is through art.
- Many of the stories in art come from the religions of the world.
- Art is sometimes made by a group of people under the artist's direction.
- Artists often reframe ideas and experiences in order to generate new perspectives.
- Art makes us look at our world in new and different ways.
- Some artists today invite the viewer to physically participate in their work.
- An art element such as color or even a physical gesture can be the subject of a work of art.
- The invention of the camera encouraged artists to experiment freely with points of view in their work.
- Artists have many ways by which they organize and form their work.
- Artists today are constantly reinventing art.
- Artists often get ideas from other artists.